- 1) Question: How much electrical resources does that side of the building have?
Response: Electrical drawings and specifications for the cold storage electrical will be posted on the Districts website <http://www.portsanluis.com/2180/Bids-Proposals>. Those drawings would benefit the electrician in determining the available power. One of the possible goals is for the power of the new Fish Market is independent of the other meters in the electrical room, so it can be determined how much power is being used just for the Fish Market.
